Daydream Toy Introduces New Line of Tall Free-Standing Plush

Hoboken, NJ (June 2007) – Unlike anything you have ever seen before, Beanstalks are tall, faceless forms that somehow look like they are having fun! The latest design from Daydream Toy, Beanstalks are catching the attention of kids, teenagers and adults alike. Maybe it's because they stand on their own or maybe its because their forms resemble friendly aliens. Whatever the reason, these guys are creating a buzz.

Standing a whopping 26", Beanstalks have weighted bottoms that allow them to stand on their own. Each has a button on one hand and a loop on the other for holding, hugging and posing. Daydream currently has 3 styles, with more on the way.

Droc stands lean and tall with a corduroy surface. Chilled and relaxed, he makes a great companion. Arbez has defined curves. With his fuzzy zebra stripes, he is ready for action. Wolley always appears to be in motion, grooving to his own beat. His yellow appearance will brighten any day.

Suggested Retail: $20 each.

Beanstalks are the latest creation from Daydream Toy, the folks who encourage imagination, curiosity, whimsy and wonder. Daydream Toy strives to create original toys that challenge and inspire both children and adults.
